AGAINST O'NEIL

The Supreme Court Today Overrules the Exceptions in His Case.

THE GALLOWS AWAITS HIM

Full Bench Agrees in the Decision. His Lawyers May Have New Resources of Defence. Probable Time of Sentence.

John O'Neil's chance of being saved from the gallows has materially diminished today,—in fact has disappeared.

An Associated Press dispatch to THE TRANSCRIPT from Boston this afternoon brings the news that the full bench of the supreme court of Massachusetts today handed down a decision as to the exceptions brought before them in the case of John O'Neil, convicted at Greenfield of the murder of Hattie E. McCloud of Shelburne Falls. All the exceptions were overruled, and the court unanimously holds that the conviction was legal.

The main point claimed in the exceptions carried before the supreme court by O'Neil's counsel was that the prosecution had failed to prove sufficiently concerning Mrs. McCloud's money,—how much she had the night she was murdered, and that the money found in possession of O'Neil was not in any adequate way proven or probably proven to have been Mrs. McCloud's. It was the fatal money in the possession of O'Neil that convicted him, and on this point his lawyers made the attack in their exceptions. But they have failed to convince the Massachusetts Supreme court.

Mr. Beer, of the firm of Beer & Dowlin, who, with C. J. Parkhurst are O'Neil's attorneys, was seen this afternoon. He had not learned of the supreme court's decision till told of it by THE TRANSCRIPT man. He was asked what would next be done for the condemned man by his lawyers.

"I don't know and don't care to talk."

"But aren't you willing to let the public know if this is the end of O'Neil's hope for a new trial?"

"You may say then," said Mr. Beer, "that there are other resources to save O'Neil in which I have confidence. It will depend somewhat on his family as to whether these resources be called out. Further than this I will not talk before a conference with my partner and Mr. Parkhurst.

Mr. Beer's reference to resources for further defence that lie in the power of the family of O'Neil to advance, seems significant.

The new plan of saving O'Neil will undoubtedly be to move for a new trial on the ground of new evidence, or pre-judgment of some of the jurors.

The new evidence plan is foreshadowed by Mr. Beer's remarks about what "the family" may be willing to bring out.

O'Neil's sentence and fixing of the date of execution may be looked for in a very short time. One attorney in this city said today that the sentence would be likely to be given at the present superior court session in Greenfield.

District Court.

The following cases were disposed of in court this morning:

John Anderson, vagrancy, six months in the house of correction.

James O'Neil, drunk and trespassing on the Fitchburg railroad, fined $5 on each offense.

William Smiter, vagrancy, fined $5.

Michael Silk, drunk, fined $3.

Fell Down Stairs.

William McNamara of Greylock had a narrow escape from serious injury Tuesday evening. He was about to retire late in the evening when he fell down a flight of stairs at his home, and was rendered unconscious. A doctor was summoned and it was found he had sustained a small scalp wound. He is 85 years old and the shock affected him somewhat. However he is able to be about now.

A Lodging House.

The Pittsfield Salvation Army are again agitating the question of a lodging house similar to the one in this city and it is estimated that $150 would start one under their auspices in good shape and would in a measure prevent the begging from door to door, which is becoming a nuisance, especially in streets away from police protection, where the women are afraid of tramps.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Mrs. D. Fountain of Houghton street has returned from a visit with relatives at Lansingburgh, N. Y.

Mrs. William Holihan and son, Harry, of St. Joseph, Mo., are expected to arrive in this city to attend the funeral Saturday afternoon of Mrs. Holihan's father, Asabel Aldrich of Clarksburg.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Wilcoxson have returned from their wedding tour.

—Miss Eva Sheldon will open her dancing class in Foresters hall in Columbia opera house Friday afternoon at 4.15. She will be pleased to see any persons desiring to join the class.

We have just received a new supply of extra fine quality of hay. Call, write or telephone T. W. Richmond's coal and wood office.

THE BEAVER JOB

The Conditions the City Council is to Investigate to Please Mr. Hamer.

THE MEN ARE UNDERPAID

Work is Being Done at the Lowest Possible Cost and the City Would Lose Money by the Contract System. John Marsh Talks Plainly.

The committee appointed by the city council to investigate the work at the Beaver will have a meeting tonight. The committee consists of Councilmen Tilton; Hamer and Rice.

The work at the Beaver is under the direction of John Marsh. It will be completed in about two weeks, not more, Mr. Marsh thinks. The job is one of the largest that the city has ever undertaken of its kind, and this rainy weather makes progress very uncomfortable for the workmen engaged on it. A howl has gone up by the head of the "opposition" that the work is being done in violation of the city charter and is costing the city an enormous sum. It has been asserted by the "opposition" that the work will cost the city over $40,000. There is the fault found that the city officials have done wrong in allowing the work to be done by the day and not by contract.

A talk with Mr. Marsh would go to prove that the city has done the very best thing under the circumstances. Mr. Marsh declares that there is not a man on the job that is not a resident of North Adams and has a family to support. He says that if he had the contract for doing the work he could not get a bit more out of the men than he is getting now, and he makes the remarkable statement that some of the men on the work are not well enough paid. He says that if he had his way he would pay some of the men half a dollar more a day and asks you to look into the wet and risky cavern they are digging in to see if you are not of his way of thinking on that point. The men are getting $150 a day. From what Mr. Marsh says it is gathered that the labor on that sewer will not exceed $9,500 in cost, and it is also gathered from what he says that to have given the work to a contractor would have cost the city more than it will under the present system. This is clear, for if the contractor should make any money on the job it would all come out of the city, as the work is now being done at the lowest possible cost.

Mr. Marsh has got the work done with considerable dispatch, considering the character and magnitude of the job. At some places the sewer pipe has been laid to a depth of 21 feet, and this depth had to be cut through solid rock, or, what is worse, through large boulders that had to be blasted away. There have been 1,400 blasts in the digging, and tons and tons of stone have been removed. Mr. Marsh says that no one could have guessed the kind of obstacles that were met with. He laid, last year, the pipe to carry off the water from the Briggsville geyser that caused so much trouble to the Windsor print works and he met nothing to indicate that the sub strata was of the kind that he had discovered.

Has an Arrest Been Made?

A rumor reached town from Pittsfield this afternoon to the effect that a Reed murder suspect had been arrested in Windsor this morning.

The report had gained general circulation at Pittsfield. The police here deny any knowledge of the matter.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

—Seats are now on sale at Bartlett's drug store for James A. Herne's great play, "The Hearthstone."

—Ground has been broken for the large car barn to be built on Pearl street by the Hoosac Valley street Railroad company.

—Richards and Canfield, in "My Boys," direct from the Park theater, Boston, will be the attraction at Columbia opera house Tuesday.

—Joseph Hunter and John Fallon, pupils of Mr. Roberts, have engagements to sing in concerts next week, the former in Adams and the latter in Hoosick Falls.

—The exhibit and sale of "The Ladies' Home Journal Pictures" will be held at the Veazie street kindergarten Saturday afternoon, November 13. All are cordially invited.

—At an organ recital given in Stamford, Conn., last week by S. R. Ford, the New York organist, Everett Noyes, the well known basso, sang "All Ye Who Seek," composed by David Roberts.

—Dr. Woodward is attending two cases of typhoid fever in the notch. One of the patients is a child only 18 months old, and the doctor says it is very unusual for the fever to attack so young a person.

—Fifteen members of the Berkshire club went to Adams Thursday night, when the pool contest with the Colonial club of that town was continued, this being the second meeting. The Berkshire club lost six points and now stands 24 ahead. The next games will be played in the Berkshire club rooms next Thursday evening

—A class in philosophy will be formed and make a party of the Tuesday Evening institute, whose meetings are held in the chapel of the Congregational church. Anyone interested in any feature of abstract philosophy or thought from the time of the old Greek Thales to the present, is cordially invited to join. Peter McPhail may be asked for further information.

KELLEY GETS 30 YEARS.

New Hampshire Murderer Gets Off Easy. New Jury Ordered in Thorn's Case.

Dover, N. H., Nov. 12.—Joseph E. Kelley was pronounced guilty of murder in the second degree this morning by Chief Justice Mason and sentenced to a term of 30 years in the state prison at Concord.

The charge was of the murder of Cashier Joseph A. Stickney of the Great Falls National bank at Somersworth, April 16 last. He has been on trial since Monday, and yesterday retracted his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty. Evidence of the experts showed he was mentally deficient, and so the lenient decision of the court.

New York, Nov. 12.—Judge Smith opened court in the Thorn trial at 9.30 this morning. Lawyer Howe suggested that the 11 jurors be retained and one additional juror impanelled and the evidence be read to him. The court ordered a recess for an hour to allow consultation, but when it resumed later, it was decided to select an entirely new jury and a summons for 200 talesmen was served immediately.

TIGER FOR TAMMANY.

Living Representative of the Organization Sent as a Gift From New Orleans.

New York, Nov. 12.—Former Mayor Hugh J. Grant has made public the appended letter:

New Orleans, Nov. 5.
Hugh J. Grant Esq., New York City:

My Dear Sir and Friend—I have read your political forecast of the New York election—your carefully prepared estimate of the vote that would be cast, and the number of ballots expected for Van Wyck. I must say, in all candor, that the result is a great credit to your political judgment and sagacity. I believe that Tammany should have its wigwam graced with a real, living representative of the organization. I send you, by express, a beautiful specimen of a tiger. He is but two and one-half months old, and was brought to this city from San Juan del Norte, Nicaragua. He is playful and kind in disposition, and will be very handsome. He is as satisfied with his surroundings as I know Tammany is over the result of the election in greater New York. Give him a place of honor in your great wigwam. You will please accept this token of mighty Tammany's glorious victory, with the compliments of your friend.

John Fitzpatrick.

Noting the suggestion of the ex-mayor of the crescent city that the tiger should be given a home in Tammany hall, Mr. Grant wrote to John C. Sheehan as follows:

My Dear Mr. Sheehan—I am informed that there is awaiting my disposal, in the care of an express company, a live tiger in a cage. It was sent me from New Orleans, the donor (ex-Mayor John Fitpatrick) informing me that in his opinion Tammany should have its wigwam graced with a real, living representative of the organization. I am told that "he is playful and kind in disposition," and there should be no hesitation on your part to take him into the wigwam.

CAPTURE OF A SWINDLER.

Clinton, Mass., Nov. 12.—After a long chase through Harvard, Bolton and Stow, the police of this town succeeded in capturing a man calling himself John Reed, together with a buggy full of counterfeit money, iron boxes, a gambling outfit and a number of packs of cards, all of which it is claimed Reed has been using in swindling money from a number of farmers in Harvard.

Complaints had been received that two men were swindling them with fake games, counterfeit money and other devices commonly used by bunco steerers. Thursday the police of Harvard got on the trail of the man, and a long chase resulted in one of them being apprehended here. The other man escaped somewhere on the road, but the police hope to find him in a day or so.

Besides the counterfeit money, Reed had over $700 in good cash, all of which the police believe he has obtained in a fraudulent manner. The principal complaint against him is by Samuel Dixon, a Harvard farmer, who refuses to say how Reed obtained his savings. Reed was taken to Marlboro today and arraigned in the district court.

OUTRAGE BY WHITECAPS.

Holgate, O., Nov. 12.—Word reached this city from Oakwood, 15 miles south, of an outrage perpetrated Wednesday night by whitecaps on Edith and May Roberts, aged 19 and 17 years. Ten days ago the young women received a whitecap notice warning them to leave the town, but they paid no attention to it. Thursday evening a band of eight or 10 men entered their rooms and, dragging them from their beds in their night robes, terribly whipped them with a cat-of-nine-tails. After beating the girls the whitecaps gave them a coat of tar and feathers and took them back to the house, where they were found unconscious Friday morning. May is in a critical condition, her flesh being cut to the bone by the whip. A card containing 10 names was found tacked to the front door, but none of the names is known about that place.

Bloodhounds were placed on the trail of the whitecaps, but owing to heavy rains and the trampling of hundreds of people about the scene the animals were unable to follow the scent, and no clue can be found.

LAKE MICHIGAN IN A FURY.

St. Joseph, Mich., Nov. 12.—The heaviest sea seen here since the foundering of the Alpena in 1881 ran Thursday. The wind blew 50 miles an hour, with frequent flurries of snow. The two-masted iron schooner Una, Captain Kempe, was caught in a squall inside the harbor and capsized with 10 men aboard, some of whom narrowly escaped drowning. The crew and passengers were taken off the wreck by lifesaving boat. Houses and bathing pavilions were damaged to the extent of hundreds of dollars. The St Joseph river is three feet above high water mark

"I HAD TO DO IT."

Reason Given For an Attempt on the Life of a Woman.

Belfast, Me., Nov. 12.—Mrs. Charles Leavitt was shot and dangerously wounded by Edmund Elliott, a treer in the Belfast shoe factory. The motive for the attempted murder is unknown, but it is believed that Elliott was crazed with drink at the time. He is in jail, and when asked for an explanation of his act he refused to make any reply beyond saying that "I had to do it."

Mrs. Leavitt made a statement which will be used against Elliott in the event of her death. The shooting occurred in a lodging house where Elliott and the woman had rooms. Mrs. Leavitt's room is on the second floor of the house, and Elliott's is connected with it. In Mrs. Leavitt's statement she says that Elliott was ill and she carried a cup of tea to him. He asked her to get him some liquor and he gave her 38 cents to pay for it. She refused to get the liquor, but told him she would go after ginger which, she thought, would do him more good than liquor.

She caught sight of the shining barrel of a revolver and secured the weapon. Elliott jumped up, seized her by the throat and wrested the revolver from her grasp. She had hardly left the doorway of her room when Elliott fired a shot which entered her right breast. The woman fled to the front hallway, where Elliott fired at her again. This time the shot missed. As Mrs. Leavitt started to run down stairs Elliott fired a third shot, which struck her in the back.

She rushed out of doors with her clothing afire and her assailant followed, but his revolver, a 32-calibre weapon with five chambers, was empty. He ran along the streets waving his revolver and crying "police." He entered the Revere hotel in an excited manner and asked that City Marshal Norton be telephoned for. He then ran up stairs and locked himself in a room. The city marshal arrived soon afterward and placed the man under arrest.

Mrs. Leavitt was hardly able to stand when a number of factory employes came along and took her into a nearby house. Two bullets were found in the woman's clothing next to her body and four bullet holes were found in her back and shoulders. One of the bullets had entered the upper portion of the back near the lower end of the right shoulder blade. Another bullet was cut out from beneath the muscles near the upper part of the cacral bone. Two other wounds are in the right breast, one bullet having penetrated the plural cavity. A bullet remains in the right lung, and it is feared she will not recover. Mrs. Leavitt is 35 years old and has been ill all summer. Her husband is a clerk in the Commonwealth hotel. Elliott is a native of New Hampshire and about [illegible] years old.

HARVARD-YALE GAME.

Cambridge Boys Not Boasting, but Prepared to Play Vigorously.

Cambridge, Nov. 12.—If Harvard's confidence of a victory over Yale on Saturday received a setback after the Yale-Chicago game, it is fast recovering, and today the college, while not certain of the game, has regained its belief in the team's ability to win.

There is no doubt Harvard's hopes are more sober than a week ago, and there is little of the feeling which prevailed for a week after the Cornell game, that Yale would have no show whatever. On the contrary Harvard expects a hard fight, but good judges are now firmly declaring that in the crimson team's defense Yale's triphammer plays will run against a far stronger wall than any that they have hitherto met, and that the assault cannot be kept up with impunity. On the other hand, Harvard's formations, though more slowly executed, can be fairly counted on to make many yards round the Yale ends as well as through her tackles.

FRIENDSHIP TURNED TO HATRED.

Middletown, N. Y., At Summittville last night a warkman by the name of Michael Piero, who was threatened with discharge by his section boss, grabbed a pick and struck his employer on the head, inflicting probably fatal injuries. The section boss and his assailant were previously very friendly.

THAT ONE PITTSFIELD BALLOT.

The Democrats of Pittsfield are howling justly because of the recount of the city's vote whereby Dr. Gamwell, Democrat, was declared defeated by Stevenson, Republican, for representative by a majority of one. A Republican mayor and Republican board of aldermen were the final judges, and it is claimed that their partisanship got in its work on Gamwell. The Pittsfield Journal, Democratic, says:

The result turned on the disposition of one ballot. The law plainly declares that a recounting board shall take into consideration the intention of the voter. In the particular instance of the ballot which was declared a blank, the voter evidently intended to vote for two or three candidates for representative, either England and Foote, England and Gamwell or Foote and Gamwell. The opinion of most unprejudiced observers who examined the ballot was that the voter intended to register his choice of Foote and Gamwell for representatives. But which ever two of the three he intended to vote for, there was no doubt that he did intend to vote for two of these three candidates. And yet the Republican board of aldermen were unwilling or afraid to say who in their opinion the voter intended to vote for and they declared that the ballot was a blank. If they had declared that in their opinion the voter intended to vote for England and Foote, the result as finally announced would have been unchanged. If they had expressed the opinion that the voter intended to cast his ballot for England and Gamwell or for Foote and Gamwell, the result would have been a tie.

And on the other hand, the Republicans claim that no one could tell what representative this one voter meant to vote for. Who's right can't be told [illegible] the Republican will go to Boston.

PLATT STILL AT THE HEAD.

Thomas Platt still lives. His enemies say he is politically dead. Thomas says no. He declares that he is still able to show the revolters from his rule a trick or two in politics. But the Low men and Warner Miller men declare that the old lion's claws are all pulled and that his political sun is setting.

As a matter of fact, the results of the recent election in New York will not in the least change the relation of Senator Platt to the leadership unless he will have the relation changed. The first party meeting or convocation that can be held so as to effect a change will not be held until 1900, when the state convention from which Senator Platt derived his leadership will be convened.

The report that Worth and other disgruntled members of the party will take action which will effect Senator Platt's standing is entitled to the same credence as would be attached to a report that a body of Democrats would undertake by resolution to bounce him out of the Republican party. Mr. Platt will remain a leader until leadership be taken from him by his party in convention assembled, and not by the action or resolution of any committee or faction of a committee.

We print an account of the Home Market club dinner on page 3 of this issue. Every Republican should read it.

Another Hamer rally will be held next Thursday evening. Won't these rallies demoralize by political terror the friends of Mr. Cady and Mr. Kearn and all other candidates who enter the field in the meantime?

Mr. Hamer goes on rallying his forces to the mayoralty battle. It is said he has pledged followers in every ward in the city, who have caucus night arranged for. Some of his lieutenants claim already to have the promise of city offices.

The first Hamer rally has been held. D. J. Barber, E. Elmer Keyes and W. R. Sanford were the most popular orators of the evening. Their majestic periods and burning eloquence made St. Jean hall fairly rock with applause and "opposition" last night.

Rev. Dr. Rowley, formerly of this city, preached a sermon on "Municipal Righteousness," in his Fall River pulpit, last Sunday evening, that received wide attention in that city. His text was from Proverbs XI: 11—"By the blessing of the upright the city is exalted."

After all, the mayoralty question reduces itself to this,—who is the best man for mayor? We are a municipal family, and what is best for the majority is best for all. Many may think differently, but when it is all over we will be living under the same administration. So let's keep good natured about it.

Murderer Durant has another reprieve and was not hung today. This time the new lease of life comes from the supreme court of California for "probable cause." The law quibble is on the fact that the California courts have as yet no official knowledge of what the United States supreme court has done and so sentence cannot be passed.

The report that H. T. Cady's health was such as to necessitate his withdrawal from the mayoralty contest is entirely untrue. Mr. Cady has been indisposed for several days, but is about again today, and his general health is as good, if not better, than it has been for years. Mr. Cady authorizes the contradiction of any rumors as to his withdrawing.

The friends of Smith college are up in arms because of a widely-circulated report that the college has been seized with a religious mania and that the sweet girl students are afflicted with revival hysteria that is almost Sam-Jonish. The officers of the college are much chagrined at the report, it would seem, and are contradicting it. Well, which is worse, religious or football hysterics? A special train will carry 300 Smith girls to Cambridge Saturday to see the Yale-Harvard game.

Timothy M. Lee, one of the old line Republicans and now a first assistant in the Immigration Department at Washington, has been in North Adams for several days on official business. Mr. Lee is one of the few men active on the stage of affairs today who has been a friend and co-laborer of the men of the civil war period. He was, perhaps, the strongest and most useful friend of Henry Wilson in that statesman's aspirations for the presidency. Mr. Lee is an old and valued friend of E. R. Tinker of this city, and the two have had an opportunity to fight their political battles over and have retold the stories of "the brave days of old."

No wonder that New Englanders are afraid of western investment schemes. J. G. Martin, the Boston financial statistician, estimates that in the past 10 years Boston and New England have lost something like $500,000,000 from losses in western investments, railroads, mortgages, mines, etc. On Atchison $80,000,000 of stock and $40,000,000 of bonds were lost; on Union Pacific $61,000,000 of stock and $57,000,000 of bonds; and on other western and southern roads it is estimated that over $170,000,000 were sunk. The loss on the Lombard Investment company was $4,000,000. Out of 30 mortgage investment companies a few years ago only two now remain in Boston.

THEY ALL DEMAND IT.

And North Adams Like Every Other City and Town In the Union Gets It.

If an ordinary business man who is sound enough financially but is a little cramped for current funds applies at a bank for a line of discount he has to conform to certain rules and regulations. The maker of the drafts or notes, the indorsement, the due date and the amounts are carefully scanned. If the said makers or indorsers are outsiders some means is taken to obtain their financial standing or rating and then and not till then is the paper negotiated or rejected. 'Tis the same with preparitory medicines, outside indorsement has to be looked up and rated before it can pass muster with the home indorsement. People we know or whose local standing can readily be obtained furnished the gilt edged article. Doan's Kidney Pills are indorsed in North Adams by North Adams residents. No need to investigate indorsation made in some other community. All that is published is the pure home spun article. Take this case:

"I am a mason by trade and I think my occupation is particularly hard on the back," says H. T. Restrew, 52 Center street. "I get warm and am exposed to the wind while prespiring. My work compells me to bend forward at the same time and strain the loins so I do not wonder that from time to time for several years, I had attacks of headache that made it agonizing to stand. Distress during the day was often followed by sleepless nights from severe pain. When these attacks occurred there was always a reddish deposit in the the urine which seemed to further weaken my back. I wore a belt for years believing that it protected my kidneys to some extent. In the fall of 1895 I was taken with a spell and in looking for some remedy to drive it away I read one or two articles about Doan's Kidney Pills curing backache and other afflictions due to bad kidneys. I decided to try them and procuring a box at Burlingame & Darbys' commenced their use. I was well rewarded for making the trial because almost immediately I was relieved and I stopped taking them before the box was finished as I had no further need for them, there being no more urinary trouble, backache or lameness. An acquaintance was complaining to me of his back. I gave him what Doan's Kidney Pills I had left. He stated to me that they had cured him."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents or mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

CHARLEMONT.

The ladies of the Congregational society held a very pleasant sociable last week, Wednesday, with their worthy president, Mrs. W. L. Warner. On Wednesday, November 17, they will meet with Mrs. J. N. Porter. Everyone cordially invited.

The Congregational Sunday school gave a harvest and thanksgiving concert Sunday evening, November 7. The pieces were of high order, and the little folks did credit to themselves and their teachers. Special mention should be made of two little girls, one Blanche Legate, a little miss scarce four years of age, who came on the platform and recited her piece with perfect ease, and the other, Margery Scott, who beautifully sang "A Child's Prayer."

Election passed off without a ripple of excitement, but the question now to be agitated is, Who is to be the coming postmaster or postmistress?

Etta Thayer, who has been teaching in Whitingham, Vt., has returned home for a short vacation. Her school commences November 15.

The village schools closed successful terms last week, Friday, for a three weeks' vacation. The same teachers will return.

Mr. Howard, the new superintendent of schools, has rented a tenement in Mrs. S. P. Davis' house and will move his family here at once.

The Congregational society have had a furnace put in the church, and now the ladies will have the inside neatly painted. Work will be begun soon.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

—There will be a meeting of the Bakers' union tomorrow evening at Central Labor union hall.

—The regular meeting of the Socialist-Labor party will be held at Central Labor union hall this evening.

—The Independent club of this city will hold a concert and dance in Columbia opera house this evening.

—There will be a meeting of the Father Mather bazaar committee next Sunday at 12.30 to close up the business of the bazaar recently held by that society.

—The Schubert Orchestral club has been engaged to play for a masquerade ball to be given in Odd Fellows' hall Thanksgiving night by Canton Colfax. The prompting will be by the lady who prompted at the ball given a year ago, when the music was furnished by the Ladies' Fidelte orchestra of Boston.

—Mrs. Hannibal L. Williams, whom the entertainment department of the Epworth League of the M. E. church has secured for an evening, the 24th inst., stands at the very foremost of Shakespearean interpreters, and her rendition of A Midsummer Night's Dream, with music by Mendelssohn, will be a treat that should not be missed.

—At the entertainment in Grand Army hall Thursday evening a new song by George Gordon of this city, entitled "Forgive," was played by the Schubert Orchestral club for the first time in public and was very favorably received. The song will soon be published and it is predicted that it will be well received by the musical public.

Will Probably Recover.

It will be remembered that a short time ago Joseph Gilman of Greylock was struck by an electric car near the cemetery on West Main street. It was at first reported that he was not hurt. His condition since then proved different and for several days hovered between life and death. He was taken to the hospital and Thursday, Drs. Bushnell and M. M. Brown, assisted by Dr. Galvin of Blackinton, performed an operation and found a quantity of puss in the abdominal cavity, which was removed. His condition today is much better and he will probably recover.

We have a fine supply of sorted hard wood, both sawed and split. Call, write or telephone T. W. Richmond's coal and wood office.

STAMFORD.

There will be a harvest supper at the parlors of the M. E. church next Friday evening, November 12, given by the Ladies Aid of that society, commencing at 6.30 o'clock. Please all come and bring good appetites, as a regular old fashioned harvest will be had for the small sum of 15 cents.

Mrs. Hotaling has returned from a recent visit to Great Barrington.

The town library will be attended to by Mrs. A. W. Wilmarth or some one to fill her place, during the vacation weeks of the village school.

Gratia Bridges is now spending her vacation at home. She expects to go back to Readsboro to teach the winter term of school.

Mr. Bishop's new house is progressing rapidly and many others are improving their buildings and surroundings, which is a sign of thrift.

Sorry to say another man was lodged in the lockup last week. The grievance was for selling or giving away cider. He was a resident of West Hill.

The proceeds of the grammar school entertainment last week Tuesday evening were $9.00 which will be used towards securing a large dictionary for the school.

The Young People's Mission band gave an entertainment last Friday evening of a literary character, after which was a supper. Several from out of town were present. Singing was one of the features A very good time was had.

Emma Bratten is visiting in Somerset.

Another milk peddler has moved into town, making the tenth. He is Mr. Wardwell of North Adams. He has moved on to the place known as the Cook farm.

Carrie Reed of Heartwellville is visiting at Harvey Fuller's.

There will be a chicken pie supper, given by the Ladies' Aid, in the parlors of the Baptist church, next Wednesday evening, November 10; also a lecture is expected from Rev. F. B. Penney.

Pleasantly Entertained.

Miss Ida Boynton of 17 North street pleasantly entertained a number of her girl friends Thursday evening. Music and games were indulged in, but the two important features of the evening were the flash light pictures taken and the refreshments. At a good sized hour the girls departed with their prizes assuring their hostess of having spent a most enjoyable evening.

C. L. U. Reading Room.

The reading room connected with the Central Labor union hall is now ready for the members. Quite a number of magazines have been presented by different members, as well as books and useful and instructive reading matter. The members of the different unions are taking advantage of this opportunity to spend their time in useful reading. The hall is open during the day.

SAVOY CENTER.

We have been already been reminded of winter by a light fall of snow.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cain are sick with mumps.

It is reported that Frank Bacon and family are going to leave town.

Floyd Harris has returned home after a two weeks' visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Meacham.

Miss Effie Burnett of the normal school spent Sunday at her home.

Alson Jones has returned from New York state and is working for H. W. Burnett.

John Turner is sick with mumps.

Miss Mary Tower of Savoy Hollow has been visiting at W. E. Cain's.

Miss Grace Burne is sick with mumps.

Genevra Cain is at present attending the Hollow school.

A lynx was seen near Herbert Stone's place last week.

Master Willie McCullock and Willie Young spent Sunday at James Meacham's.

Although it is November now the Centre school scholars and teachers were surprised Friday morning by a May basket of birch bark and kindlings left Thursday night by Jonathon Raymond.

Verne Fitzroy has resumed her duties at the Centre school after being absent several weeks.

Louis Beaudette and Fred Harris spent Sunday at Hoosac Tunnel.

Ward Martin is on the sick list with mumps.

Miss Alida Rice of Pittsfield is the guest of Miss Grace Hibbard this week.

LINE.

Many will be glad to hear that Henry Carr says he feels like a new man. Dr. Morton of North Hatfield succeeded in conquering the lip cancer, receiving $30 for the job. He visited Mr. Carr at his home occasionally during the treatment.

Many were glad to see Mrs. Edward Clark able to attend the church entertainment. She has had within a few years quite a siege of sickness

N. H. Sheppardson says he supposes he is the one reference is made to in a Vermont paper. He has built a dormer window, and it was an excellent item considering all things.

No snow here yet. One year ago the ground was white awhile October 13.

We noticed when the song Marching Through Georgia was rendered by the graphophone at the church, the old soldiers were highly pleased, among whom was the South Whitingham postmaster.

Harold Lamb of Adamsville is the only book agent we have seen this way for a long time.

Usually G. H. Phillips has a few summer boarders but the past year it has been reversed. A lady from Hubbardston now winters there.

The church was well filled Thursday evening. An entertainment by George N. Baker of Florence, formerly of Halifax was given. A graphophone costing over $100 was the principal speaker. Some who were hard of hearing and those sitting too far away did not enjoy it as they would have wished, but the sudden outburst of cheers at the close of several pieces was proof that many were much pleased it.

WHITE OAKS.

The small reservoir used by the North Adams Water company recently received a thorough cleaning out. Several men were employed on the work.

Miss Eva Richmond is suffering from the popular malady, the mumps.

"The Helping Hand Torch" read last Friday evening before the temperance society was a successful number. Many interesting original articles, contributed by members of the order and by friends were read and happy local hits increased the interest. Mrs. G. V. Stryker deserves the congratulations of all upon her work as editor. Beginning with November the meetings of the society are held every Friday evening except the Friday preceding the third Sunday of every month. On that Sunday evening a roll-call meeting is held and a special address given.

The Hearts-ease committee of the Christian Endeavor society held a pleasant meeting at Mrs. Merry's, Thursday afternoon. The topic was "True Womanhood."

Will Stocking is appointed sexton of the chapel for the winter.

The recent rains are teaching once more what a glorious thing for White Oaks good roads would be. Even clay patches are not desirable in wet weather.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.
Berkshire, ss. Superior Court.
OCTOBER 26, A. D. 1897.

Lemon Thompson and al., plaintiffs, vs. Albert H. Barnes and al., defendants.

This is an action of contract to recover $2,000, as by writ on file, dated the tenth day of November 1896,

It now appearing, upon the suggestion of the plaintiffs' counsel, and on the inspection of the officer's return, that the service of the writ in this case was defective and insufficient, and that no personal service was made upon the said Daniel E. La Dow, defendant,

It is now ordered that the plaintiff give notice to the said Daniel E. La Dow, defendant, of the pendency of this action, by causing an attested copy of this order to be published in the North Adams Transcript, a public newspaper printed at North Adams, in the county of Berkshire and state of Massachusetts, once a week, three weeks successively, the last publication to be at least thirty days before the first Monday of January next, or by causing the defendant to be served with an attested copy of this order fourteen days at least before the first Monday of January next, that he may then and there appear and take upon himself the defence of this action. And that proceedings in this action be postponed until notice shall be given to the said Daniel E. La Dow, defendant, agreeably to this order.

AT ADAMS TODAY

The Attendance Increasing.

The attendance at night school has increased a great deal since the opening. There are now enrolled about 350 pupils. Most of these are at the Liberty street school. The attendance at Renfrew is hardly what it should be. Last season on the opening of the night school there were over 600 people who applied the first night and the schools were over crowded. However when it was announced that the arithmetic only extended to denominate numbers a large part of the people stopped going, and thus they did not apply at the present session. There are many people who are anxious to attend evening school and would only be too glad to become members if the studies taught extended through a higher grade. The superintendent has had numerous requests to that effect, but the money appropriated will not permit. About $800 was appropriated for night schools and if it had been made $200 more the studies from the first grade to the high school could be taught. The voters of the town would do well to consider this matter and if they see fit make such an appropriation at the next town meeting. It would give the working people a good opportunity and one which would surely be appreciated.

Adams Players [illegible]

The second series of games in the pool tournament between the Berkshire club of North Adams and the Colonial club of this town was played in the local club's parlors Thursday evening. In the first game played the visitors led by 30 points. However Thursday evening J. C. Chambers defeated Mr Marriott of North Adams [illegible] to 20 and thus tied the score. Mr Coppenhale defeated A. H. Streeter 60 to 40 and Fred Reed of North Adams defeated Thomas Anthony 60 to [illegible]. Thus the visitors still lead by 24 points. The next series will be played at North Adams.

[illegible] for Pittsfield.

The game between the Pittsfield and local high school football teams was played on the common in Pittsfield Thursday afternoon. As stated before the city boys were much the heavier team and they made gains through the local [illegible]. They won by a score of 2[illegible] to [illegible]. The Pittsfield boys will play a return game in this town.

Another Offer

Pitcher Peter McBride has received another offer to play ball the coming season. This time the offer is from the Detroit baseball club of Michigan. This nine is one of the strongest in the Western league. From all appearances the local twirler has been watched the past season and indications are that he is a good twirler.

To Hold [illegible]

At the last meeting of Division 3 A. O. H. the matter of holding a bazaar was discussed and the matter is now in the hands of a committee consisting of John Trimble, James Welch, P. J. Stanton, Thomas P. Welch and William Martin. They will report at the next regular meeting.

Autumn Festival

Everything in connection with the coming autumn festival to be held in the old St. Charles church for the benefit of St. Thomas church is progressing nicely and the event, which occurs November 19 and 20, promises to be a success. The second evening's entertainment will be a comedy farce entitled "The Limerick Boy."

Home From the Hospital.

James Dail[illegible], the boy who was hurt a month ago by an electric car on Columbia street and suffered the loss of part of his right foot, came home from the North Adams hospital Thursday afternoon. He is compelled to use crutches, though the foot is doing nicely.

Shakespearean Lecture

The senior class of the high school is arranging for a Shakespearean lecture to be given in the opera house probably December [illegible]. The subject will be "As You Like It" and Mrs Williams of Boston will be reader.

Will Have Twelve Players

Prof. Palmer, whose orchestra has been engaged to furnish the concert and dance music at Company M's ball December 3, will have an orchestra of 12 pieces. The new men will probably be those who were engaged last year. The orchestra will begin regular rehearsals at once.

Race Postponed

The horse race between [illegible] Morse's and Mr Th[illegible]'s pacers, which was to have occurred on the fair grounds at North Adams this afternoon, has been postponed [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] in condition.

A Good Showing

Lawyer Shea of this town had nine cases to try at this week's sitting of the superior court and he won all but one, which fact speaks only complimentary of him.

The foot race between Jack Doyle and [illegible] Fitzgerald of North Adams occurs at Zylonite Saturday afternoon.

WILLIAMSTOWN

May Build a New Bath House---Burglary at the Sand Springs---Thumb Bitten by a Horse---Want an Association Building.

Burglars at the Sand Springs.

The Sand Springs Sanitarium was broken into Tuesday night, but nothing was taken. The house has been closed for about six weeks, but there is in it a large quantity of bedding, crockery, silver plate, etc. Entrance was gained by forcing open the double doors on the east side of the building, which were strongly fastened with lock and bolts, and it took a heavy pressure to open them, as the condition of the doors showed. The burglars were undoubtedly frighted away in a peculiar manner. A few panes of glass are missing from the kitchen windows and as soon as the front doors were opened there must have been a heavy draft through the house, as the wind was blowing a gale. Between the kitchen and dining room is a pair of doors that swing both ways and do not latch. The hinges have become rusty and squeak loudly when the doors are moved, as they must have been when the wind was given a course through the house. A door moving on its hinges would not be welcome music to a burglar and the probability is that the premises were vacated very suddenly and unceremoniously when the sound of these doors was heard. Dr Lloyd thinks that the job was the work of home talent.

Thumb Bitten by a Horse.

Robert Walden met with a peculiar and very painful accident the other day. He was handling carrots and carelessly passed one to his horse, which stood behind him, without looking around. The horse seized the carrot with avidity and, failing to note the dividing line between the vegetable and the hand, the end of Mr Walden's right thumb was included in the mouthful. It was not taken off, but the nail was loosened and the thumb was severely lacerated. It is now badly swollen and extremely painful, and it will be some time before Mr Walden forgets the experience.

Want an Association Building.

For some time there has been talk of erecting a building for the college Young Men's Christian association and the matter is in the hands of a committee composed of members of the association and members of the faculty and alumni. Such a building as is desired would cost about $40 000 and if the enterprise is undertaken it is proposed to raise the money by subscription among the friends of the college. The alumni members of the committee have been in town for a day or two on business connected with this project.

May Build a New Bath House.

Dr Lloyd is thinking of taking down the Sand Springs bath house and building a much better one on the site. The swimming pools would be saved and would be improved by covering the bottoms and sides with tile. The building would have considerable glass in the roof and be far superior to the present one in all respects. The doctor is now getting estimates and if the cost is not too great the improvement will be made.

It will take about a week of good weather to finish the Cole avenue stone road. People are now driving over it, however, so the inconvenience to the public is not so great as it was.

Crosier's meat market will hereafter close Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 6 30 o'clock.

Gale hose company planned to hold a package social in the hose room this evening, but on account of the operettas in the opera house, under which the hose room is located, the social was postponed to next Tuesday evening.

The two operattas to be given at the opera house this evening will make a pleasing entertainment, and there should be a good attendance to enjoy the music and encourage the children.

William Davis and Abel Dufraine are selling tickets for an entertainment to be given by the Franco-American club in Houghton hall, November 26. The one who sells the most will receive a gold ring, and the boys will see that no possible buyer is overlooked.

Victor Noel was in Albany Thursday on business.

A horse owned by George H. Prindle escaped as he was about to be hitched to a wagon Thursday and ran as far as Charles Bridges' place before being stopped. Quite a number of men and boys were after him and the people of Riverside were well waked up for a few minutes, they supposing the horse had cleared himself from the wagon and that there had been a bad runaway.

E. B. and S. H. Roberts went to Pittsfield Wednesday to attend the wedding of their sister.

The football team left for Buffalo Thursday night in a special sleeping car attached to the 8 19 express. The team will play Cornell Saturday. A few students accompanied the team, making a party of about 25. They will arrive home Sunday morning at 5 o'clock.

HOME MARKET CLUB.

Annual Dinner In Boston Attended by a Thousand or More.

DINGLEY ON THE FREE TRADERS.

Lodge Reviews the Election and Makes a Suggestion.

Boston Nov 11—The annual dinner of the Home Market club was held at Mechanics hall last evening and was one of the most successful in the history of the organization. Fully 1000 people attended. The most distinguished guests were Congressman Nelson A. Dingley of Maine, Congressman Charles A. Russell of Connecticut, Congressman Jonathan P. Dolliver of Iowa and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, all of whom made speeches arousing great enthusiasm.

At 6 o clock the members of the club and the guests sat down to dinner in the main hall, which was elaborately decorated with flags and bunting and pictures of many men who have been identified with the development and history of the Republican party.

Promptly at 7 o clock President Charles A. Stott of Lowell called the meeting to order and introduced Lieutenant Governor Crane, who congratulated the Home Market club on the fact that it has always stood for good government, sound money and protection.

Senator Hanna said in a letter expressing his regrets at not being able to attend: "In behalf of the Republican national committee I thank the club for its most valuable services to the whole country and I bespeak for it a long continuance of usefulness and of increasing influence."

Congressman Dingley

The principal address was that of Congressman Dingley of Maine, who said among other things: "The people of this country have been attentive although reluctant pupils in a national kindergarten. The tuition has come high, but no people ever learned so much in four years, although there are some persons with very short memories. The realized fact that has been burned into the consciousness of so many of our seventy odd millions of people is that the unexampled prosperity which had been ours under a protective policy for 32 years, even in spite of the burdens imposed by a gigantic war and especially during the 14 years from 1879, when we got back to a sound currency and normal conditions, to 1893 began to disappear when the industries and business of the country started out to discount the free trade verdict near the close of 1892; that during the four years in which first anticipated and then partially realized tariff reform was bearing its bitter fruits, distrust of the future, distrust even of the credit of the government, industrial and business stagnation, diminishing earnings and consuming power and waning prosperity were the stern realities which faced our people; and that the industrial and business recuperation began a few months ago as soon as it was an accepted fact that the policy of protection would be promptly restored and has advanced with a steady tread since such legislation has been placed on the statute books, although everyone recognizes that while you can tear down in a few months, yet it requires many months to rebuild. It is not an ounce, but many tons of fact that have overwhelmed the free trade theories.

NELSON DINGLEY JR.

It is not surprising that the confusion in the camp of our free trade friends in view of such an object lesson should have resulted in contradictory explanations of their apparent failure as prophets. Some of them—doctrinaires who study maxims rather than markets—deny that there has been any restoration of confidence or revival of business. If facts before their eyes disprove their theories the worse for the facts. Others who are not entirely blind to facts admit the improvement but insist that it come in spite of protection from what they call natural causes. Isn't it surprising that the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] powerless to bring such help until protection came to help them.

"I shall leave our free trade friends to reconcile their antagonistic explanations of the failure of their theories, simply remarking that the common sense of the people concludes that the [illegible] [illegible] coincidence between the protective policy and prosperity and between the overthrow of that policy and adversity establishes the relation of cause and effect, even if this cause be only contributory to the tendency in modern times to periodical alternations of confidence and distrust, and such common sense finds a reason for this conclusion in the fact that all history shows that the prosperity of a country is guaged by the extent to which its people are employed at such wages or profit as insure the highest standard of living.

Senator Lodge

Senator Lodge followed the congressman in a brief address. "I want to say a single word about the elections," said he. "The Republican party is never afraid to look facts in the face. If the facts in the late election are disagreeable we are just as ready to face them and learn their lesson as if they were the most agreeable in the world, but while it is wise and manly to look facts in the face there is no sense in drawing conclusions from falsehoods or looking falsehoods in the face. If we want to arrive at an intelligent conclusion in regard to the recent elections we must compare them not with the vote of last year but with the vote of similar years. If you were to compare the earnings of a summer hotel in January with its earnings in August you would probably find a great decline in its business (Applause). If you start to compare the earnings of a wheat-carrying railroad in September you compare them with the previous September and not with the month of March.

"The figures show very plainly that outside of New York no party in the last 12 years has done as well as the Republican party has done in the year succeeding a presidential election in this year 189[illegible].

"The state of New York was lost to us—a great disaster. I do not minimize it in the least—lost by a division of the forces which carried it triumphantly a year ago and which as the figures show if united, could have carried it again this year.

We ought to pass some measure at the coming session of congress looking to the improvement of the currency. I have heard it said that we ought not to agitate that question. Mr President, it does not lie with us to say whether that question shall be agitated or not. Let me assure you that if we undertake to be silent and non commital on that question our opponents do not intend to be anything of the kind. Everything that can be done by bill, by debate, by resolution, by speech will be done by the Bryanite Democracy on the currency question. In the next congress none of their legislation can pass. It cannot pass the Republican house, it cannot get by the Republican president. But I think it is our duty to meet that question broadly, to bring forward reasonable measures, to pass it through the house, to see it stopped in the senate—we know it will be stopped there beforehand—and make it clear to the whole country that they cannot have any improvements in the currency or in the banking system until they give us both a house and a senate that are Republican.

When Mr Lodge had concluded the president introduced Charles A. Russell of Connecticut. Mr Russell's greeting was very enthusiastic.

The last speaker of the evening was Congressman Dolliver. He made a lively speech which completely captivated the crowd.

At the conclusion of Mr Dolliver's speech President Scott addressed the gathering and suggested that the wind up of the evening be the singing of one verse from the "Star Spangled Banner," and this was done with a volume of sound that filled the great hall.

HAMER MEN MEET

About 150 Gather in St. Jean Baptiste Hall to Express Their Sympathy.

STATUS OF HIS CANDIDACY

D. J. Barber Makes an Address. A Elmer Keyes Received Heartily. W. R. Sanford Says a Few Words. The Money End of It.

A meeting was held Thursday evening in St. Jean Baptiste hall in the interest of H. R. Hamer for mayor. It was attended by about 150 people from all parts of the city, the largest number being from Ward 1. There was no definite action taken at the meeting. The business of it was to talk over the Hamer movement, the Hamer qualifications for the mayoralty and the Hamer record in the council.

There were few who would be called prominent men present. D.J. Barber and W. R. Sanford with the exception of A. Elmer Keyes were the best know men there. The coming of Mr. Keyes was the cause of a decided demonstration in his favor. His entrance to the hall was loudly cheered and he was not allowed to remain without expressing his sympathy with the movement. The demand for Mr. Keyes to speak was unanimous and he was applauded most heartily. It was just after Mr. Santord had asked the chairman of the meeting how he expected to achieve anything without fighting for it that Mr. Keyes was compelled to rise. He is suffering from a very bad cold and perhaps that prevented him speaking at length to his admiring audience. He simply said that making speeches was not in his line; that he had not known a man to fight for the workingmen of the city so well as Mr. Hamer and that he had come to the conclusion to advocate his cause if no one else did. The columns of Mr. Keyes' journal. The Eye Opener, have been very friendly to Mr. Hamer, which no doubt accounted for some of the warmth of the reception given him at the enthusiastic meeting.

The attention given D. J. Barber was all that that gentleman could desire. He was listened to most attentively and was applauded for his words of encouragement. Mr. Barber brought to the meeting the good news that many of the business men on the street were in favor of Mr. Hamer and that he would have their votes. This had been told Mr. Barber by one of the most prominent and intelligent of our citizens and propert owners. This was accepted as good news and was given the proper reception.

Mr. Barber had spoken before and in his first address to the meeting he considered Mr. Hamer and the Hamer movement at length. He is in sympathy with Mr. Hamer's candidacy. He has known Mr. Hamer from his boyhood and he can say that he is straightforward, clear headed and honest. He was a successful business man and never had business reverses. A year ago he had not dreamed that he would be in the position that he now finds himself. In the council he wanted to know. He worked hard to get information so that he could vote intelligently and we all know how his requests for information were treated. In this Mr. Hamer has the sympathy of the people for when he was denied the information the people were denied it also. Mr. Hamer has the necessary qualifications for mayor. He is careful and if elected to the office would give all his time to public business and would begin public work in the spring and not in the fall. Joseph Lloyd had made reference to money before Mr. Barber spoke and Mr. Barber took occasion to say that money does not mean so much now as it has done in elections. There is little use for money today when the people are behind the candidate.

The morals of Mr. Lloyd's speech will appear in this and show to what Mr. Barber had reference and evidently intended to sit on mildly, not to a degree that would estrange any of Mr. Hamer's friends. Mr. Lloyd gave some figures to show the strength of the Hamer movement. He had in his possession a list of 317 names of voters who would vote for Mr. Hamer. Of this number 240 were seen by Mr. Lloyd himself. He knows that the canvassers who are interesting themselves in the Hamer matter have the names of 1,700 voters on their lists. There are no duplicates among these, he said. Then Mr. Lloyd devoted himself to the ethics of money in the campaign. He declared that some of the voters had been approached and offered money to vote for certain candidates and that he knew more was coming. He advised the voters take all the money they could get and then vote as they pleased. He did not know but it would be a good plan to take all of this money and to turn it to a Hamer campaign fund.

W. R. Sanford, editor of the Evening Herald, when called on said that he came to listen not to talk. He was in sympathy with the Hamer movement, admired Hamer's record in the council and wished the Hamer movement God speed.

William Dobson was called on to speak and said that he was in sympathy with the movement but was not yet ready to declare himself. He belonged to an organization, a committee from which would call on Mr. Hamer and if the consultation with him was satisfactory there would be no doubt that considerable work would be done for the candidate.

Cornelius Wilde was chosen chairman of the meeting and permanent chairman of the Hamer club. He wished it understood that the Hamer men were not fighting the present administration; that what was wanted was a public servant in the mayor's chair. It was explained that Mr. Hamer would carry on the work of permanent improvements, but that he would give a change of method. The statement of the chair that the administration was not being fought brought Mr. Sanford to his feet to ask how anything could be gained if it was not fought for. C. E. Card was of the opinion that there was no hostility to the administration and Archie Gelinas was sure that if all of the French voters in the city knew Mr. Hamer as he does there would be a good many of the French votes for him.

Among those who spoke were Patrick Conlin, Alex. T. Ford, James Lavin, James Merritt, S. P. Blais, John Dibley, John Parker, Frank Eaton, Robert Costello, Jr., Peter Sorell, Daniel Hogan, George Lee, Alexander Trainor, Arthur Wylde and James Ashton.

Another meeting will be held next Thursday evening.

ANNUAL FAIR AND SALE.

Ladies of Notre Dame Parish to Swell the School Fund.

The Ladies of Notre Dame Parish will open their annual fair and sale at Odd Fellows' hall Saturday evening and it will be held seven evening, closing Saturday evening, November 20. Clapp's band will furnish music the opening night and there will be orchestral music each evening. There will be some kind of entertainment each evening in addition to all the usual attractions of such an event and all attending will be pleasantly entertained. The ladies are working enthusiastically and hope to make the event as successful as those which they have held in the past. Among those who are prominent in directing the work of preparation are Mrs. M. Owens, Mrs. Edmund Bissaillon, Mrs. Moses Granger, Mrs. George Felix, Mrs. Vadnais and Mrs. Gagnon. It is expected that large numbers of French people from Adams and Williamstown will attend. A 15-cent supper will be served Saturday evening from 5 to 7 o'clock and two more will be served next week. All sorts of fancy and useful articles will be on sale and there will be many articles to be disposed of by ticket. The proceeds will be applied to the parochial school fund.

Close of Superior Court.

The superior court closed at Pittsfield Thursday afternoon after a sitting of 12 days, and the court list was pretty well cleared off.

Thursday morning the case of Mrs. Mary E. Burghardt against Colbert & Nilan was reported in process of settlement. The judgment was for $125 without costs and that was satisfactory to the plaintiff, who, it was admitted, had a close case and one likely to be appealed. A motion was made for a new trial in the case of Frederick S. Folwell against the Springfield Union publishing company, on the ground that the verdict was against the evidence and was not satisfactory to the plaintiff and also on the ground of newly discovered evidence. Judge Lilley took the papers and will give his decision later.

William C. Davis of North Adams was given a divorce from Hattie B. Davis for adultery. This was the last case heard. The court adjourned at 4 o'clock. Many of the bar went to the judge's rooms and thanked Judge Lilley for his excellent work on the bench.

William Hunter is having a barn built on Prospect street and expects to purchase a horse.

The appointment of Sanborn G. Tenney to be judge of the Williamstown police court meets with general approval here where the judge has many friends who extend congratulations.

The Misses Mansfield of North Adams will furnish music for the whist and reception to be given by the Father Mathew society this evening.

A very dangerous practice is indulged in by some of the smaller boys while on their way home from school. They run along side of the electric cars, some times so close that if they should happen to fall they would go under the cars and nothing would save them from serious injury. The time to stop this is before any serious damage is done.

Blackinton is blessed with a free library that very few towns of its size can boast of and for its quality of books is very hard to surpass. All the very best and latest works are to be found there and thanks to the city of North Adams and town of Williamstown for their donations the library is kept replenished with the very latest and up-to-date books. O. A. Archer gives the library his personal attention each week and can be found at his post as librarian every Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. While the library is very largely patronized at present there is still room for more, and persons looking for good reading during the winter evenings can find it by patronizing the library, The people of this village can never repay Mr. Archer for the many hours of service he has given in building up this library, that we hope he will live many years to see continue doing its grand work.

FIFTY YEARS.

Lafayette Lodge of Masons and the Men Who Founded It.

In view of the fact that Lafayette Lodge, F. and A. M., of this city, preparing to celebrate its semi-centennial, and that a program is being prepared for that occasion, some of the chief facts in the lodge's history are of special interest at this time.

Masonry in North Adams has flourished for a half century. The first lodge in North Adams was established in 1847, under the name of the Lafayette lodge, and for two years worked under dispensation. January 8, 1849, the charter was received, which bears the name of the following charter member: William C. Plunkett, L. Allen, S. M. Dean, Isaac Hodges, Jesse Whipple, William H. Tyler, J. Hall, Samuel Brown, E. D. Whitaker, Washington Adams, Isaac Dean, Abner Younglove, T. Higginbotham, Alfred Oles, W. B. Sherman, R. H. Briggs, R. Whitman, Eber Sherman, Dexter Gleason, O. C. Woodard, L. C. Thayer, E. S. Hawks, L. Thompson, Alex. File, Abel Wetherbee, E. Estes, Samuel Duncan.

The Lafayette lodge was the outgrowth of the old Franklin lodge of Adams, the charter of which dated back into the last century, but which was surrendered at the time of the Morgan uproar. In North Adams the first meetings of the Masons were held in Dr. Hodge's office on Union street in the building now occupied as an office by N. L. Millard & Co.

Afterwards the lodge found a home in the old Broadford block on Main street; in the old Daniel Kimball property on Main street; in the Wilson house property over the present opera house room; where it was burned out in 1869; in the G. A. R. rooms in the Adams bank block, and finally in its present commodious quarters in the Burlingame block, rooms having been specially designed for this purpose when that structure was erected.

The past masters of Lafayette lodge have been: Abel Wetherbee, 1849-50-51; A. A. Richmond, 1852-53; Henry Chickering 1854; Evenol Estes, 1855; John Lewis, 1856; N. S. Babbitt, 1857-58-59, Abel Wetherbee, 1860-61-62-63; E. J. Decker, 1864; Wiliam H. Gaylord, 1868; Robert Howard, 1869; William Warren, 1871-72; H. S. Millard, 1873; B. G. Olds, 1874; A. W. Fulton, 1875-76; C. F. Lindsay, 1877-78; R. A. Warren, 1879; C. E. Ketchum, 1880-81-82-83; A. W. Fulton, 1884; R. B. Harvie, 1885; H. F. Cary, 1886-87; F. E. White, 1888-89; H. C. Savage, 1890-91; S. A. Plumb, 1892-93; A. A. Wills, 1894-95; J. M. Prentice, 1896.

The present officers are: Arthur W. Blanchard, W. M.; Sanford H. Plumb, S. W.; William J. McNeill, J. W.; Frank L. Tilton, treasurer; William M. Burch, secretary; Edward M. Rand, chaplain; Robert Irving, marshall; Louis Coleman, S. D.; William H. Crocker, J. D.; William H. Geddes, S. S.; John P. Woods, J. S.; Samuel Mabbett, tyler; Fred E. White, trustee.

LIVING PICTURES OF THE WAR.

An Excellent Production Will Be Represented Tonight at G. A. R. Hall.

Living Pictures of the War at G. A. R. hall on Thursday evening were a decided success. The entertainment lasted two hours and 20 minutes and the entire company deserves a great deal of credit for their excellent work. Mr. Bowers, the author, took two of the most difficult parts, which he carried through with ability. Mr. Bowers says that in the course of his travels, he has never had the good luck to find more or better talent than in this city.

The recitation by Miss Henwood in the first number was excellent, also the recitation by Miss Blossom. "The Picket off Duty Forever" was good, "An Awkward Squad" was quite appealing and the production of "The Bivouac," "Night Before the Battle" and others were very satisfactory.

Mr. Bowers deserves commendation for the excellent way in which he has trained the company. The attendance was very large considering the rainy weather.

Those who took part were: George Whipple, J. M. Canfield, W. B. Herrington, H. H. Stiles, Walter Button, W. L. Terry, E. Jeffers, William Kent, James Bradley, E. W. Bradley, Frank Bradley, Archie Dunn, William Orr, Bernard Avey, J. T. Potter, Thorn Bliss, Samuel Putnam, J. Q. Irwin, Mrs. W. L. Potter, Miss Jennie A. Graham, Miss Clara Henwood, Miss Blossom, Mrs. John Mulany, Comrade S. A. Bowers, Louisa Wright, Miss Anna Graham, Miss Mary Fountain, Miss Nellie McAdoo, Mrs. Hattie Lee, Mrs. Annie Snyder, Miss Viva Hicks, Mr. Louis A. Amidon, Mrs. Louisa Oaks, Miss Lottie Burdick, Miss Franc Follett, Miss Ada Hicks, Master Chelsea Neuman.

The Schubert orchestra took a prominent and pleasing part in the entertainment, The Tunnel City quartet added very much also.

The Athletic Exhibition.

The athletic exhibition advertised to take place in Wilson opera house Thursday evening had an abrupt and unsatisfactory ending. The receipts were not enough to pay the rent of the house and Manager Meade put a stop to the performance before the sparring began.
